The Bad Boy and His Pa Go to the Exposition.

"What was the doctor at your house for this morning?" asked the grocery man. "Is it your ma sick?" "No, ma is worth two in the bush. It's pa that aint well. He is having some trouble with his digestion. You see, he went to the Exposition with me, as guide, and that is enough to ruin any man's digestion. Pa is near sighted, and he said he wanted me to go along and show him things. Well, I never had so much fun since pa fell out of the boat. First, I made him jump clear across the aisle, there where the stuffed tigers are, by the fur place. I told him the keeper was just coming along with some meat to feed the animals, and when they smelled the meat they just clawed things. He run against a showcase, and then wanted to go away. He said he traveled with a circus when he was young, and no one knew the dangers of fooling around wild animals better than he did. Well, you would a died to see pa there by the furniture place, where they have got beautiful beds and chairs. There was one chair under a glass case, all velvet, and a sign over it telling people to keep their hands off. Pa asked me what the sign was, and I told him it said ladies and gentlemen are requested to sit in the chairs and try them. Pa climbed over the railing and was just going to sit down on the glass showcase over the chair, when one of the walk around fellows with police hats took him by the collar and yanked him back over the railing, and was going to kick pa's pants. Pa was mad to have his coat collar pulled up over his head, and have the set of his coat spoiled, and he was going to sass the man, when I told pa the man was a lunatic from the asylum, that was on exhibition, and pa wanted to go away from there. He said he didn't know what they wanted to exhibit lunatics for. We went up stairs to the pancake bazaar, where they broil pancake out of self rising flour, and put butter and sugar on them and give them away. Pa said that he could eat more pancakes than any man out of jail, and wanted me to get him some. I took a couple of pancakes and tore out a piece of the lining of my coat and put it between the pancakes and handed them to pa, with a paper around the pancakes. Pa didn't notice the paper nor the cloth, and it would have made you laugh to see him chew on them. I told him I guessed he didn't have as good teeth as he used to, and he said, "Never you mind the teeth, and he kept on till he had swallowed the whole business, but he said he guessed he didn't want any more. But I thought I should split when pa wanted a drink of water. I asked him if he would rather have mineral water, and he said he guessed it would take the strongest kind of mineral water to wash down them pancakes, so I took him to where the fire extinguishers are and got him to take the nozzle of the extinguisher in his mouth, and I turned the faucet. I don't think he got more than a quart of the stuff out of the saleratus machine down him, but he reared right up and said he'd be condemned if he believed that water was ever intended to drink, and he felt as though he could bust, and just then the man who kicked the big organ struck up, and the building shook, and I guess pa thought he had busted. The most fun was when we came along to where the wax woman is. They have got a wax woman dressed up to kill, and she looks just as natural as if she could breathe. She has a handkerchief in her hand, and as we came along I told pa there was a lady that seemed to know him. Pa is on the mash himself, and he looked at her, and smiled, and he said good evening, and asked me who she was. I told him it looked to me like the girl that sings in the choir at our church, and pa said course it is, "Pretty good show, isn't it," and put out his hand to shake hands with her, but the woman who tends the stand came along, and thought pa was drunk, and said, "Old gentleman, I guess you had better get out of here. This is for ladies only." Pa excused himself to the wax woman, and said he would see her later. [Milwaukee Sun.]

Shylock Attorneys.

The Henry County Local answers the Governor as follows:
"In conversation with Governor Blackburn the other day, a reporter of the Courier-Journal called his attention to the fact that Commonwealth's Attorney, C. J. Bronston, intended to test the right of the Governor to grant pardons in cases that have not been brought to trial. The Governor replied that he was glad if it was decided adversely to the right, he had been exercising, it would save him a great deal of worry and trouble and no little responsibility in discrimination between a proper and improper appeal. It would also give him an opportunity of showing to the people of Kentucky the absolute necessity of paying prosecuting attorneys a salary instead of a percentage of the fines. As the law now stands there will be unjust and unnecessary litigation, and innocent persons prosecuted who have had no intention of violating the law, and it is very proper that there should be some power to protect these people from the rapacity of some of the Shylock prosecutors of the State." We are glad the Governor has delivered himself so freely on this very important subject. For his course in delivering pardons so indiscriminately in this county has vexed and disgusted our citizens beyond measure. And now it appears that in the intensity of his amiability and self-righteousness he is not willing that the ravenous Commonwealth's Attorneys should deal with his pets, although they are subject to the controlling influences of the courts and the intervention of juries. No, they're all so corrupt and avaricious that he can't trust them. But he, the immaculate, infallible Governor alone is just and merciful enough to deal with the delinquent violators of the law. His statement is a direct insult to the judiciary, Commonwealth's Attorneys and the juries of the State and is as ridiculously absurd as anything could be. In the first place, Commonwealth's Attorneys get nothing for prosecuting felonies or any other case where there is not a fine imposed. And yet how many murderers and thieves have gone scot free under his pardons without ever having had a final trial. In the next place his talk about discrimination is laughable in the extreme. In the last four years quite a number of fines have been imposed by the inferior courts of this county, and yet through his interference, not one of them amounting to as much as $20, has ever been collected. As an evidence of his discrimination, one instance that occurred in this county during this year will doubtless be quite interesting. The county Attorney prosecuted before the Justice's court at Pleasureville, on the same day, three druggists for keeping tipping houses. Two of them plead guilty to that charge, and the third confessed judgment for retailing spirituous liquors, and yet with all the Governor's solicitude about proper discrimination, he pardoned all three of those parties. In fact this thing has been carried so far that violators of the law, in this county have defiantly told the officers of the law that they care nothing for their prosecutions, that the Governor will remit their fines, and so he has always done. The Governor need not trouble himself about the change in regard to attorneys' salaries. If his administration were to continue a few years longer there would not be any need for attorneys.

His course would virtually abolish the courts and especially the inferior ones, so far as criminal matters are concerned. The same facts exist elsewhere and the same complaints come from other parts of the State, but overlooking all protests no matter how vigorous or just they may be, our arrogant and self-righteous Governor continues to pardon criminals, and then has the temerity and meanness to excuse himself by casting the censure on what he sees fit to term the "Shylock" prosecuting attorneys.

THE BUSINESS MANAGER.—Once upon a Time a Printer was Heard to Concede that the Business Manager of the Office in which he toiled was a High Minded and Liberal gentleman. Whereupon there was much Agitation among the Angels in Heaven, it being Surmised that One of their Number had Got Away and was Holding Cases. [Denver Tribune.]

The Western Union, the company which owns the principal telegraph lines of the United States, increased its number of miles of wire from 233,534 in 1880 to 374,294 in 1881. The wires operated by that company would reach fifteen times around the world.

Only a Woman's Hair.

Hasland comes home at night, Gets a kiss; That's all right, On his knee, Sits and talks, Waiting for him. Sudden start! And a stare, On his coat, Sees a hair! Color red— Here is black— Sole and tears, Pity, 'twas! Husband goes Out at night, Went come back Till he's tight.

A Breath of Fire.

Dr. L. C. Woodman, of Paw Paw, Michigan, contributes the following interesting though incredible observation: I have a singular phenomenon in the shape of a young man living here, that I have studied with much interest, and I am satisfied that his peculiar power demonstrates that electricity is the nerve force beyond dispute. His name is Wm. Underwood, aged 27 years, and his gift is that of generating fire through the medium of his breath, assisted by manipulations with his hands. He will take any body's handkerchief, and hold it to his mouth, rub it vigorously with his hands while breathing on it, and immediately it bursts into flames and burns until consumed. He will strip, and rinse out his mouth thoroughly, wash his hands, and submit to the most rigid examination to preclude the possibility of any humbug, and then by his breath blown upon any paper or cloth, envelop it in flame. He will, when out gunning and without matches, desirous of a fire, lie down after collecting dry leaves, and by breathing on them start the fire and then coolly take off his wet stockings and dry them. It is impossible to persuade him to do it more than twice in a day, and the effort is attendant with the most extreme exhaustion. He will sink into a chair after doing it, and on one occasion, after he had a newspaper on fire as narrated, I placed my hand on his head and discovered his scalp to be violently twitching as if under intense excitement. He will do it any time, no matter where he is, under any circumstances, and I have repeatedly known of his sitting back from the dinner table, taking a swallow of water, and by blowing on his napkin, at once set it on fire. He is ignorant, and says that he first discovered his strange power by inhaling and exhaling on a perfumed handkerchief that suddenly burned while in his hands. It is certainly no humbug, but what is it? Does physiology give a like instance, and if so, where? [Michigan Medical News.]

Walked. "That butter came from the North" said the landlady of an Arkansas boarding house. "I don't use the common butter of this country on my table. All my butter comes from a distance." "Does it walk?" asked a boarder. "What did you say, sir?" "I ask does your butter walk in making the journey?" "No sir," said the lady with a sweet, sad smile, "but I hope that you can walk," and she opened the door.

"Why madam, I have paid you three weeks in advance." "It makes no difference. No man who insults my butter can remain under my roof. You flirted with my daughter and abused my husband, and I took it all in good part, but, sir, as you have passed the limit of my endurance, leave this place!" "Madam, feeling that I am outnumbered, I'll leave. It is not in your power to put me out, and that but for the fact that you might call your masculine friend there," pointing to the butter, "I'd contest the matter, but as it is, I surrender. Good day." [Arkansas Traveler.]

The doctrine is held by a few Polish Jews that a good man may sell his claim upon Heaven. This belief is based on the Rabbinical proverb, "Good deeds buy the future world," which is interpreted by most Jews to mean that by doing good one may secure for himself happy immortality. Harris Udovitch of Troy bargained to buy Louis Cohen's heavenly claim for $150, but Cohen backed out of the agreement, and the result was a fracas which sent Udovitch to jail.

It appears by the Secretary's report that the available naval force of the United States consists of thirty-seven cruisers, fourteen single-turreted monitors, built during the rebellion, a large number of smooth bore guns, and Parrot rifles, and 87 rifled cannon.

An Honest Confession.

The Courier-Journal says it would be a very excellent idea for the republicans to adopt the statement and confession recently made by the King of Corea and then retire to private life. The King's confession fits the republican party exactly. He said: "I have been for seventeen years at the head of the nation, although I was wanting in ability. My administration has been a failure, and abuses have arisen in the government through my fault. I repent, but it is too late. Since I occupied the throne I have made many improvements in roads and other things, but both rich and poor have to suffer under the burden. This is my sin. I have often altered the currency and sacrificed the interests of the people. This is my sin. Bribery has been carried on publicly. The complaints of the victimized have not reached my ear. This is my sin. The taxes have been embezzled and the business of the people ruined. This is my sin. I am ashamed to come before the people again. I will purify my mind and repent my former misdoings."

The following is the toughest bear story that we have encountered: "A man in New Jersey, having no weapon and being attacked by a bear, struck him with a bottle of kerosene oil, which broke and the contents ran down the animal like the oil on Aaron's beard. The bear not minding this at all, sprang at him and began hugging him, when the man, taking a match from his pocket set fire to the bear. All but the head and shoulders were soon consumed, when, in order to save the head and get the bounty, the man carried water in his hat and extinguished the flames."

A Paris actress avers that each perfume has its special moral and physical qualities, which—so far as her observations have gone—she states as follows: Musk predisposes to sensibility and amiability; rose, to audacity, avarice and pride; geranium, to tenderness; violet, to mysticism and piety; benzoin, to dreams, poetry and inconstancy; mint and verberna, to a taste for the beautiful arts; camphor, to stupidity and brutality; Russia leather, to indolence; while ylang-ylang is the most dangerous of all.

A well-known American actor once said to a stranger, who had just made a most impertinent and exasperating request, that he would grant it upon one condition. "What is it?" asked the stranger. "You must first promise me faithfully that you will never, never stand on your head, for, if you do, the weight of your gall will surely break your neck."

TESTIMONIALS OF LINCOLN CO. FARMERS!

THE ALBION

HARROW, CULTIVATOR & SEEDER.

Three First-Class Implements Combined in One.

STANFORD, KY., Oct. 31, 1882.

GEO. D. WEAREN—Dear Sir:—The Albion Spring Tooth Harrow, Cultivator and Broadcast Seeder purchased of you is all you claim for it. I am well pleased with my purchase. As a Harrow and pulverizer it is the best I have ever seen; as a Seeder, I would not exchange for any other, and I am also confident that it will prove valuable as a Cultivator. CRAIG LYNN.

MR. GEO. D. WEAREN—Dear Sir:—I have one of the Albion Spring Tooth Sulky Harrows, Cultivators and Broadcast Seeders. I am well pleased with it and would not exchange it for any similar tool. WM. GOOCH.

GEO. D. WEAREN, ESQ.—Dear Sir:—I used one of the Albion Combined Spring Tooth Harrows and Broadcast Seeders in putting in my wheat this Fall, and do not hesitate to say that it did the work perfectly. C. T. SANDIDGE.

GEO. D. WEAREN—Dear Sir:—We bought of you a Spring Tooth Sulky Harrow and Broadcast Seeder, and after having used it in seeding wheat in foul stalk land, we are free to say that the Implement is a good one and gives satisfaction. We regard it superior to any Drill and a perfect success as a Harrow and pulverizer. R. W. GIVENS & SON.

MR. GEO. D. WEAREN—Dear Sir:—I am pleased with my Albion Spring Tooth Harrow and Broadcast Seeder; think it is much better and answers many more purposes than a Drill. JOHN BUCHANAN.

GEO. D. WEAREN—Dear Sir:—Have tested your Albion Seeder on clean, plowed land and on the foulest stalk land. It gives better satisfaction than any implement ever used in foul land. A. K. DENNY.

GEO. D. WEAREN—Dear Sir:—I have used one of the above mentioned Seeders, and heartily endorse the statement of Mr. Denny. J. A. DEPAUW.

GEO. D. WEAREN—Dear Sir:—The Albion Combined Spring Tooth Harrow, Cultivator and Broadcast Seeder is all and even more than you claim for it. I have sown 59 acres of wheat this season in filthy corn land, and it does its work well where no other machine would work at all. My son Jimmie, who is 12 years old, ran the machine all the time, using a team of comparatively small horses, and found no difficulty. I cheerfully recommend it to my farmer friends, for I know a fair trial will convince them of its usefulness eight months in the year. JOHN P. BAILEY.

GEO. D. WEAREN—Dear Sir:—Each one of us having purchased of you one of your Albion Spring Tooth Sulky Harrows and Broadcast Seeders, we take pleasure in saying that they have given us entire satisfaction and done all that you claimed for them. Prefer them to any wheat Drill we have seen. Sows the wheat evenly and leaves none exposed on the surface; also regard the tool superior to any other as a pulverizer and believe they will prove valuable as Cultivators. C. VANOV, SHANKS SPOONAMORE.

"Men may come and men may go,
But we go on forever."

The Arlington estate in Alexandria county, Va., which was confiscated by the government as the property of Gen. R. E. Lee, has been decided by the Supreme Court to be illegally held from its proper heirs. The property consists of 1,100 acres and the government has converted it into a huge cemetery, where the bones of 19,000 Federal soldiers have been collected and interred. As in its present condition it is entirely worthless to its lawful owners, the only thing that can be done is to have it appraised and paid for, together with damages that have been sustained by reason of its being illegally held. Slowly but surely many of the tyrannical acts perpetrated while men's passions had the best of their reason, are being righted and cruel war measures swept from the statute books.

The negro can never secure his rights as an office holder as well as a voter unless he demands them and stands by his own color in an election. But he won't do it; on the contrary he seems to prefer any "onery white cuss" to them. The recent elections in Virginia and elsewhere prove this, for Rev. J. W. Dawson, an intelligent and worthy colored man got only 4,342 votes for Congressman-at-large, notwithstanding more than half of the voters in that State are negroes.

The sage the Glasgow Times struck centre when he remarked that "being a church member hasn't as much religious nutriment in it as a cup of white sassafras tea after the sap rises, when a man doesn't pay his honest debts, if he is able. The man who contracts honest debts and doesn't pay them can't fool the Almighty by his hypocritical prayer or being found on the front bench at church. The honest man pays his debts when he can, and a true christian is always an honest man."

The Nelson Record has information from headquarters that the Kentucky Mutual Benefit Matrimonial Association of Lexington is "unauthorized and illegal under the laws of the State." We make this note so that the fool who would part with his money may not do so with his eyes shut.

It seems preposterous that in these piping times of peace the Secretary of War should have the gall to ask for $38,897,620.34 to expend during the coming fiscal year, especially since the estimates do not include any item for improving rivers and harbors or any work of that nature.

The Louisville Democrat has entered its thirteenth year with even Mun-better prospects than ever. Brother nell is to be congratulated on founding and placing on such a solid basis a paper that sticks so closely to the traditions and principles of the immortal Jefferson.

The State officers of Virginia under the Mahone regime are a sweet-scented set. The Auditor of Public Accounts has been indicted for malfeasance in office and several others of the crowd are suspected of embezzlement and will be investigated.

NOTES OF CURRENT EVENTS.

—Out of 522 convicts in the Alabama penitentiary but 67 are whites.

—Phil. Thompson failed to get his bill through Congress to re-establish the Soldier's Home at Harrodsburg.

—There are 184 ladies studying medicine at the Michigan University, where John D. White's sister matriculated.

—A suit has been instituted against the Willard Hotel Lottery and it is hoped that the policy holders may get their rights.

—Louisville raised in six days $106,710 of the $200,000 necessary to secure the success of the great Southern Exposition to occur there next year.

—According to the Commonwealth, the total receipts of the Register of the Land Office during the last fiscal year were just $2,821.72 less than the pay of the officers who run it.

—U. S. Bonds to the amount of $900,000 were burned Friday, by order of the Secretary. They were a bequest from J. L. Lewis, who wanted to help much in extinguishing the U. S. debt.

—Shenandoah county, Va., has a special "dog tax," which this year, after paying the owners liberally for all the sheep killed by them, shows a surplus of over $300. Such a law would be hailed with delight by the sheep raisers here, but they will never get it as long as would-be politicians are elected to the Legislature.

—Mr. McPherson, Clerk of the House of Representatives, has made an estimate as to how the next House will stand. He figures it that there will be an over-all majority of fifty-nine Democrats. He is having considerable difficulty in classifying the Independents. The following are his figures: Democrats, 191; Republicans, 121; Readjusters, 6; Independent Democrats, 4; Independent Republicans, 2.

—Will Porter for murder and robbery at Perry, Ga.; Gustave Paul for killing his mistress, at Donaldsonville, La.; Bud Younger, for the murder of another negro at Swainboro, Ga., and Albert Sanders, col., at Charleston, Mo., for killing his rival in a love affair, were choked to death to satisfy the outraged law Friday. They all went, according to their assertions, straight home to glory, though it is thought by some that the devil was not so easily robbed of his own.

Railroad Meeting.

A large and enthusiastic meeting was held at McKinney on Saturday, Dec. 9th, to take into consideration the granting of the rights of way through Lincoln county to the Cincinnati, Green River and Nashville Railroad. D. W. Vandever, Chairman of the Railroad Committee for said county, being present, called the meeting to order. The following additional members of the committee were also present, to-wit: Dwight Root, Dr. Samuel Hecker, Captain John O. Neal, K. L. Tanner, F. M. Ware, James I. McKinney, W. H. Miller and G. H. McKinney. The Chairman explained the object of the call of the meeting, and subsequently delivered a very able address in support of the call. He was followed by W. H. Miller, F. M. Ware, Hon. T. W. Varnon and Col. Charles H. Rochester, all of whom delivered able speeches imparting much valuable information touching this great proposed public improvement.

G. W. McKinney offered the following resolutions which were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the Honorable County Court of Lincoln county, be hereby respectfully requested to appropriate the proceeds arising from the tax received from the Railroads now completed and running through Lincoln county for the term of three years or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay for the right of way of any Railroad that may be located from Richmond Junction through the county in the direction of Nashville, Tennessee.

Resolved, further, That we the tax payers of McKinney and vicinity, hereby pledge ourselves to endorse the action of the Honorable County Court in making the appropriation for the purposes aforesaid.

The proceedings had at the meeting gave very general satisfaction, and the meeting then adjourned amidst the greatest enthusiasm.

"PRAISE THE LORD."

WATERFORD, SARATOGA CO., N. Y., December 4, 1882.

Dear Interior:

The nipping cold of a Northern Winter is upon us. Now we find out the common sense of having a large "Stewarts Coal burner" in our little room, which is about 18 by 12. When we first came we thought this fiery monster would be the death of us, almost. We did not understand the management of it, and wrestle with it as we would the heat steadily got away with us. But to-day we welcome all its warmth, and would not have it a size less for anything in reason. Nothing but stoves and good coals, will do in this country. Open fire places are a mockery. The rich have for the looks of the thing, the comforting heat being furnished by a furnace in the basement. We are a long ways North of the Norwich latitude, and have an invitation to Oswego 145 miles still N. W. where, we can have yet more lively idea of the private life of a Greenlander than even here. But it is good, wholesome cold, and well wrapped, one does not mind it much.

Yesterday, the severity of the weather thinned our congregations, and there were only confessions at the children's meeting in the afternoon. But ten were present who had not come forward at the previous service, and all of them confessed. No difficulty in getting children with the gospel suited to a "little child," such as Jesus took as his model hearer in the olden time.

At night, after the people had been dismissed with the announcement from Bro. Thompson that the meeting would continue until the middle of the week, he told me that the "official board" at its session Saturday had decided to close the meeting at the end of the second week, unless there was a "break." But for the hungry sheep of the flock, I would have closed, as soon as I learned this, for if the thing is decided upon, one had better go out before being turned out. Well! we have a new experience of humanity at every stage. This will be the first time we have been stopped without consulting us. We take it, as every thing, easily and without grumbling. It is part of our pilgrim lot, and we PRAISE THE LORD through it all. The situation to sight is alarming. I notice it in these letters, just this once, taking my readers, behind the scenes. I. We have no positive invitation to any other place, with this "wait of convenience" for Wednesday night starting me in the face. 2. No money. On our last $5 bill and a heavy washing coming in to eat a great hole in that. We heard, soon after coming here that the dear boys in Tennessee were in great straits, Will having pawned his watch in Tazewell, for the board bill of the quartette at that inhospitable place, and two of them shoeless, with feet touching the ground at every step, through the holes in the shoes. Wardrobes generally expiated, in spite of their route, but diligent attempts at patching. Will, was wearing his straw hat. All this comes to us in confidence without a grumble. I annex a copy of postals from two of the new scattered party to show that the distress still continues, though before this is printed, relief will have reached them. Of course we couldn't stand this, and emptied our limited purse for their relief. Hence our exhausted exchequer. The dear evangelists are going over the rough mountain experience we so well know; only the one bearing a little heavier burden than we were called upon to lift. They are young and strong however, and will come thro' their conquerors. PRAISE THE LORD! The following postals tell their own story. The first and second is from Barnum to Will, from St. Clair, 8 or 10 miles west of Rogersville, at which latter place Will and "Sankey" are blazing away at the devil forts. The third from Garver at Devils

St. CLAIR, TENN., NOV. 27, 1882.—Dear Interior:—We are having good meetings and full houses. I preached three times yesterday. Eleven children (all that were there) confessed. Anointed a colored girl in the country; she is improving. Many people are believing the doctrine I preach and I look for a grand work here. Will have a consecration; meet at 6 p. m. and preaching afterwards to-night. Have just received a nice pair of calf boots, woolen socks and drawers as presents from friends here. Some unconverted persons contributed to it. Praise the Lord. Wish I could divide with you. Am suffering with cold in the head and lungs and some fever. Will preach but once a day. Hope to hear good news from you and Sawyer. Yours in Him, T. C. BARNUM.

St. CLAIR, TENN., NOV. 28, 1882. Dear Brethren.—Had one confession and one anointed last night. The M. E. pastor was there and just after the benediction he arose and calling the attention of the people, denounced me for having no license and for my doctrine. The people began to leave the house. I told them to come back to-night in the name of the Lord. I did not get excited at all. Things are going on the Lord's way. The people condemn the pastor for his conduct. I slept better last night than usual. Praise the Lord. Yours Bro., T. C. BARNUM.

SNEEDVILLE, TENN., NOV. 30, 1882. Brothers Willie and Charlie.—If I am inclined to be a little demented in this epistle, you will please consider the circumstances that environ me, a description of which I will proceed to give. I have returned from the church, where only two had gathered to hear me preach. The saints here are colder than the Tazewell christians, if possible. There have only been the thirteen confessions which were made at the children's meeting Sunday. No anointings. One old gentleman from the country said he wanted me to go out and see his daughter. But he never returned to take me out, as he had promised to do. I am quite an enigma to the people. You know how shamefully we have been accused of being Catholics, Mormons, &c., now, to top it off, it has even been said that we are Klu-Klux! Horrid! Even the stove at the church seems to be against me. It is trying to convert that few who do come out. Not a single christian has given me any encouragement whatever. Last Sunday the Baptist minister "hooked me up." I heard from my sister a few days since. She informs me that it is believed she has consumption. Have not heard from home since I arrived. This is quite strange. Perhaps surely failed to send that money as I have not received it. You can see that I am "sorely pressed." I wish you had a glimpse at my shoes at the present writing. "Stuck" or not, I shall ever Praise the Lord. Yours in Christ, LEONARD.

Garver's "sister" mentioned in the above he hoped would aid him in the work with her sweet singing. I leave these letters with consciences. I will add no more to this except an apology to the boys who will not like this apparent breach of confidence. But I trust the LORD to make that all right. Ever in Jesus, G. O. B. I.

Dec. 5.—P. S. The dear LORD has just sent sweet relief in the shape of a remittance from sister Houk, of Dayton. Forty Dollars, of which she directs $10 are to be sent to Will. PRAISE THE LORD. That will take us a little nearer to Waterford. Figures stand at present, 70 for soul, 17 for body, 42 for specific blessing at the P. M. meetings.

—KILLED.—Another killing is added to Garrard's list, and Wm. Cazy, of Madison is the victim. He was perhaps 40 years of age and was a widower for the second time, his last wife having died last May. Apparently desirous of becoming a Benedict again, he commenced some time since to pay his devotions to Miss Pauline East, a pretty young girl of 15 and of good family, who lived with her father on Back Creek, near Teaterville. The family was greatly opposed to the match and intimated as much to Cazy. He however, succeeded in turning the girl's head and finally induced her to leave with him for some unknown place. They were gone for several days, returning on Saturday last, still unmarried. This incensed the family more than ever and about 11 o'clock Sunday, Owen East, a brother of the misguided girl, it is reported, seeing Cazy on the way at Mr. Sebastian's, called to him to come over. He went and a few words passed, when East struck him a blow on the head, laying him out. Mr. Wilson who lived with East, shortly after called to Sebastian to come over and get Cazy, which he did and about 6 o'clock that evening he died. The doctors say that the exterior table of the skull was not injured, but the interior was to such an extent as to cause the most severe hemorrhage. At last accounts no inquest had been held and no steps taken to secure the arrest of East.
